This week's word of the week is:

TOLERANCE

In Harmony Meadow, where friendship blossomed like wildflowers, little Theo Tiger embarked on a journey to understand the magical world of tolerance. Wise Grandma Giraffe explained, "Tolerance, Theo, is like a big umbrella that keeps us dry in the rain. It's accepting and respecting others, even if they're different from us."

Excited to learn more, Theo gathered his friends—Mia Monkey and Oliver Owl—for a day of adventure. They encountered creatures of all shapes, sizes, and colors, each unique in their own way.

As they explored the meadow, Theo noticed Mia's love for swinging from trees and Oliver's passion for storytelling.

They realised that tolerance meant celebrating each other's differences and enjoying the diverse talents each friend brought to the group.

Inspired by their newfound understanding, the trio organised a Tolerance Tea Party, inviting all the animals of Harmony Meadow to join in. They shared stories, laughter, and snacks, creating a warm and welcoming atmosphere where everyone felt accepted.

In Harmony Meadow, tolerance wasn't just a word; it was a vibrant tapestry that united them in friendship and respect. Theo Tiger and his friends learned that embracing tolerance made every day in Harmony Meadow a joyful celebration of diversity and acceptance.

A few weeks ago we had Mike Moss Photography come into School to photograph the pupils and staff. During Mike's visit he took some great photographs of Chaigeley.

This week in Lavender class

This week the pupils visited the Maritime Museum in Liverpool to explore the Titanic exhibition and the connection of the ship to the local area. We also visited the White Star line headquarters where the news of the sinking was told from the balcony along with the confirmation of the people lost.
